Election/Restriction

Introduction

1. The following is an election/restriction in response to the communications received on January 9, 2002. Claims 12-14 were cancelled prior to this action. Claims 1-11 and 15 are restricted in this application.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-6 and 15 are drawn towards a facility management and layout system, classified in class 705, subclass 10.
- II. Claim 7 is drawn towards a monitoring system, classified in class 705, subclass 10.
- III. Claims 8-9 are drawn towards a use charging system, classified in class 705, subclass 1.
- IV. Claims 10-11 are drawn towards an elevator system, drawn towards class 705, subclass 1.

3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the monitoring system can be implemented without the facility management system. The subcombination has separate utility such as a facility management system, as is addressed by the claims. The facility management system has independent utility from the monitoring system and the monitoring system does not require the specifics of the entire facility management system.

Inventions I and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the facility use charge system can be implemented without the facility management system. The subcombination has separate utility such as a facility use charge system, as is addressed by the claims.

Inventions I and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the elevator system can be implemented without the facility management system. The subcombination has separate utility such as an elevator system.

Inventions II, III, and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions are for a monitoring system, a facility use charging system and for an elevator system. These inventions are not related in scope and cannot be used together and are not intended to be used together.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
